Love in the air!

Hi Jonathan

The photo shows our Friday night Valentine's Party event over Zoom. These smiling faces reflect the fun we had all along the evening playing games and chit chatting about our most romantic stories!

Tomorrow night, I am looking forward to hosting TSI Friday: That's so 90s. With a selection of games, music, and quizzes, it will be a great way to start the weekend, and you could win up to £500 of future Spice events as we relive the excitement of the first lottery draw!

There are lots more online events to come and there is a selection below. Do join us!

Poker face

Last night was Poker Night, and it was a great fun evening. I managed to grab this screen image while I was somehow briefly in the lead! Look out for another one coming soon. It doesn't matter if you haven't played before as the rules are explained and we play on several different virtual tables for different abilities. We don't use real money!
