

With Grateful Thanks

Spice join with people around the world in lamenting the passing of our beloved Queen and marvelling at her example of a lifetime of service.

As a group that was formed right in the middle of the Elizabethan era, Spice cannot help to have been inspired by the values of our Queen. Values such as: Encouraging a deep and enduring love of the outdoors; creating friendship, respect and understanding between people of all backgrounds; demonstrating compassion towards those going through difficult times; support for good causes, for the environment and celebrating all that is good in the human spirit. Also, from the many tributes and insights given to her character, we can also rest assured that she would have fully embraced our famous Spice sense of fun!

When leading rambles, it is interesting to note just how many Spice members were first introduced to the great outdoors by such organisations as The Scouts and Duke of Edinburgh's Awards Scheme that are so closely associated with our Royal Family.

Some of you will also remember the excitement of getting Spice tickets to a special concert attended by The Queen at Symphony Hall upon her visit to Birmingham in 2002 or joining us on one of the many events we held in 2012 and 2022 for her Jubilee celebrations.

Yes, may we be sad that she has died, yet inspired by how she lived. On Monday we will be closing the Spice office as a mark of respect and I'm sure that we will all wish to take that opportunity to raise a glass and say "thank you Ma'am".

New events just added:

Sunday Lunch at The Roundhouse

The name Jonathan's has been synonymous with wonderful dining since the first Jonathan's restaurant opened in Bearwood in the 1970's. We were delighted to discover that the name and reputation live on with their latest restaurant in Birmingham's historic Roundhouse. We've booked a very special Sunday Lunch on October 9th that is already proving very popular with those in the know! Book now.

A Night at the Dogs at Perry Barr Stadium

These are always popular, sociable evenings as we get to enjoy a lovely meal together, but with the added excitement of greyhound racing to enjoy. There's always the option to have a flutter and then scream and shout your lucky dog home. But don't get too carried away as you'll find that these dogs have minds of their own! We've booked Spice tables for Thursday 13 October, so come and have some fun!

Spice Dine French at Côte Brasserie

Côte brings the authentic Parisian style brasserie to Solihull High Street.

A brasserie is all about enjoying the simple classics of French food 'done well' in a relaxed, sociable and friend filled environment. To save you a trip to Paris, we've booked Spice tables for Thursday 10th November and we think you're in for a treat.

Or as the French might say:
C'était parfait!
